

Letter of Recommendation

We purchased a study on 'North America Bicycle Market (2021 - 2026)' from Mordor Intelligence and based on our experience, are happy to recommend them to businesses looking for help with market research and strategic insights tailored to fit their needs. We found Mordor's team--research as well as sales--to be polite, professional, and knowledgeable. They were able to accurately comprehend our requirements and incorporate them in the substantially customized study that they did for us.

The final product was easy to read and consume. It was clear that a lot of thought had gone into not just the research and the analysis, but also the presentation of all the data and information. We quite appreciate this!
